IMPACT: State

Summary of Legislation: This bill provides that a person who: (1) is a nonresident of Indiana but currently lives in Indiana; (2) serves on active duty; and (3) is stationed in Indiana or a surrounding state; is eligible to pay the resident tuition rate at a state educational institution.

Effective Date: July 1, 2010.

Explanation of State Expenditures: The bill could increase state expenditures for higher education if the number of resident students increased. The state currently provides an adjustment for state institutions with a history of growth. The adjustment is based on a four-year rolling average. The adjustment for enrollment change was $1,750 per student for FY 2010 and $2,625 for FY 2009. The enrollment change calculation does not apply to Indiana University - Bloomington, Purdue University - West Lafayette, Indiana State University, or Ball State University. The impact on expenditures would probably be minor.

Explanation of State Revenues: Universities could experience a decrease in fee revenue if the number of resident students increased. The difference in resident tuition and nonresident tuition ranges from $5,200 to $17,000, depending on the state institution.
